

MOHAMMAD TOUHIDUL ISLAM
School of Economic, Political & Policy Sciences – Criminology
The University of Texas at Dallas
800 West Campbell Road,
GR 2.510 Richardson, TX 75080
mxi220004@utdallas.edu

EDUCATION

August 2022- 2026	Doctor of Philosophy in Criminology – PhD Candidate, The University of Texas at Dallas Richardson, TX.
2016	Master of International Economic and Business Law, Faculty of Law, Kyushu University, Japan.
2009	Master of Police Science, Rajshahi University, Bangladesh.
2002	Master of Social Sciences, Department of Economics, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh
2001	Bachelor of Social Sciences, Department of Economics, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

I completed my master's thesis for a partial fulfillment of L.L.M degree from the Faculty of Law, Kyushu University, Japan for the session October 2014- September 2016.

Title of the thesis: A Comparative Study of Human Rights Vulnerabilities in the Police Custody in Bangladesh, India and Australia: Searching for Effective Remedies.

CONFERENCE/ WORKSHOP/SEMINAR

10-11 January,2015	Attended the Understanding Regulatory Choice and New Economic Zones, in Kyushu University, Japan
20-22 May, 2015	Attended the 12th ASLI (Asian Law Institute) Conference in Taiwan
19 December, 2014	Attended the seminar on Strengthening Judiciary and giving Technical Assistance, in Osaka, Japan.
2011	Attended the International workshop on Counter terrorism Capacity Building (CTCB) in Bangladesh, 2011.

PROFESSIONAL APPOINTMENTS

11/2008– Present Senior Police Officer (Current Rank: Superintendent of Police-SP), Bangladesh Police, Ministry of Home, Bangladesh.

Job Experience:

- I Worked as an Investigating Officer in Detective and Criminal Intelligence Division (DB) in Dhaka Metropolitan Police, Dhaka, Bangladesh where I did intelligence-led policing and basically detected and investigated into serious nature of crimes including terrorism.
- I worked as a supervisory officer in the District Special Branch where I supervised the police personnel during collection of intelligences.
- I worked as a trainer and shared my professional experiences as well as the knowledge regarding police accountability and integrity, intelligence and criminal data management, Police Regulation Bengal, The Evidence Act, Criminal law and Procedure, police operation and investigation etc.
- I worked as a peacekeeper in United Nations Peacekeeping Operations in Mali (West Africa) as Logistics Officer in 2018-2019.

TRAINING EXPERIENCE

- Completed the Basic Training Course for ASP (Assistant Superintendent of Police) Probationers in 2009 in Bangladesh Police Academy
- Foundation Training Course (FTC) from Bangladesh Public Administration Training Centre (BPATC) in 2012.
- Attended Basic intelligence Course in Special Branch Training School, Dhaka in 2020.
- Attended some domestic professional trainings arranged by Bangladesh Police Academy, Police Staff College and Dhaka Metropolitan Police in different times since my joining in the police service.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Police Accountability and Integrity, Police Training and Leadership, Criminal Law and Procedures, Human Rights, Crime Control Polices, Counter Terrorism.

LANGUAGE SKILLS

English & Bengali

FELLOWSHIP & AWARDS

- 2014-2016 The Japanese Grant Aid for Human Resources Development Scholarship) for two years.
- 2013 Was awarded with President Police Medal (PPM) especially for my significant operations against militancy and some other serious criminals.

REFERENCES

Mark Fenwick
M.Phil. (Cambridge University, UK),
PhD (Cambridge University, UK)
Professor,
Faculty of law, Kyushu University, Japan,
mark@law.kyushu-u.ac.jp

Han, Sang Hee,
PhD (Peking university, China),
LL.D. (Keio University, Japan),
Visiting Scholar (New York University, USA),
Professor, Faculty of Law, Kyushu University, Japan.
beida315@gmail.com

Md. Munibur Rahman,
Deputy Inspector General of Police,
Bangladesh Police,
Government of Bangladesh.
Master of Economics,
University of Dhaka, Bangladesh,
Master of Policing, Intelligence and Counter Terrorism,
Macquarie University, Australia